De la rama al bosque

From the branch to the forest

Mixing poetic registers with the idea of mathematical addition, this book plays with language, triggering a reflection on words and how they work: how many branches does it take to consider it a tree? And what about a forest? Is it true that with ten steps you already have a walk? That with two hands there is a handshake, but with four there is a ring-around-the-rosey?

¿Todo puede ser arte? un alfabeto visual

Can everything be art? A visual alphabet

Since prehistoric times, human beings have felt the urge to leave a mark on their surroundings. The reasons behind this have varied over time. In this book, besides fundamental concepts, great artists and visual art styles, you will find strange things. Art is constantly changing, and its definition remains open: whatever art provokes in us remains the only constant.

Art excites us, art teaches us, art inspires us and makes us question things.

"Each decision made by the team in charge of this book denotes experience and care, valuing literary, paratextual and objectual aspects"

Amor animal. UNA LOCA CONQUISTA

Animal love: A crazy conquest

We hug, kiss and cuddle when we are in love. We want to always be close to that special person and even surprise them with gifts. All these actions also take part in the animal kingdom, but not only that! Animals also present a range of endless, strange behaviors that will leave you speechless: chases, choreographies and tricks are only some of the things animals do to flirt their mating partners in order to stay together.

Everything is indeed possible when it comes to love. Discover how animals flirt!

Un año. POEMAS PARA SEGUIR LAS ESTACIONES

One year. Poems to follow the seasons

This beautiful book brings together short poems, made in the haiku style, about the little things that children experience in different seasons of the year. The fleeting beauty of the cycles of nature is fixed in postcards made with cut paper. Agile and delicate verses that open the visual imagination and the memories themselves

A brief hymn to the beauty displayed by the cycles of nature, postcards that contain the surprise of those who see their details for the first time...

*“The illustrations, made with cut-out colored paper, evoke Matisse’s final stage and dialogue harmoniously with the synthesis of the texts. Small book of remarkable grace, simplicity and formal coherence”
(Cuatro Gatos Foundation).*

El Sol, la Luna y el Agua

The Sun, the Moon and the Water.

The Sun and the Moon always go to play at Water's house. When will Water go to his friends' house? And what will happen when he goes to visit them? Laura Herrera's version of a Nigerian folk tale that includes some verses that can be set to music. Nigerian storytellers say that a story is always better if you add songs, rhythms and dances.
